

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXI.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1894.

NO. 95

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. J. H. Julian is attending the Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville.

—"Uncle Joe" Hopper continues his meeting at the First Presbyterian church Lexington, with over 40 additions.

—Including all the branches of Methodism, there are now 42,040 ministers, 6,124,786 members, and over 20,000,000 adherents.

—The Presbyterian church is still without a pastor and we hear of no effort to get one. "No preacher don't cost nothing," you know.

—Elder Jos. Ballou received five persons into the Christian church at Mt Vernon Sunday, three of whom he baptized yesterday morning.

—Elkton is experiencing a great revival of religion. Rev. W. R. Browden, of Elizabethtown, is holding a meeting at the Methodist church there, that had had over 50 additions to last accounts.

—St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Sixth and Walnut, Louisville, was almost totally destroyed before the fire could be extinguished. The loss is about $100,000 on which there is $54,000 insurance.

—"The probabilities are a million to one that whatever Baptists have believed and practiced for 1800 years is right. The guidance of the Holy Spirit is not a delusion."—Western Recorder. Jesse 80.

—Chicago has a total number of 626 churches. There are 105 Methodist, 101 Roman Catholic, 84 Congregational, 72 Baptist, 64 Lutheran, 56 Presbyterian, 44 Episcopal, and various other churches and missions.

—A proposition of the National Reform Association to amend the preamble to the Constitution so as to make it recognize the divinity of Jesus Christ was presented by Mr. Frye in the United States Senate, and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

—The 19th anniversary of Rt. Rev. Thomas U. Dudley to the bishopric of Kentucky was appropriately celebrated at Calvary church, Louisville, Saturday. A number of speeches were made including an interesting one of an historical nature by the eloquent bishop.

—Rev. A. T. DeLoeary, who used to be rector of the Episcopal church at Harrodsburg, was run out of Como, Miss., when he was detected in an attempt to outrage a four-year-old girl. When he was in Harrodsburg he was such a pious cuss that he left a social gathering, says the Democrat, because some of the ladies wore low neck and short sleeves.

Christian College Notes.

[ADV.]

—The examinations are nearly over and they have developed the fact that there has been good, conscientious work on part of both teachers and pupils.

—Misses Lula and Lizzie Moore and Miss Maggie Sandridge, from near Shelby City, matriculated in C. C. on Monday. They are three excellent additions to the Teachers' Department.

—The teachers and young ladies, of the College, spend their Sunday afternoons in the good work of the Christian Endeavor. This is a noble work and should be encouraged by all.

—The Department for Teachers opened on Monday with a fair attendance. The work has begun in earnest. Teachers may enter at any time in the next 10 days. Those who expect to teach should not fail to attend.

—The patrons of the school by special invitation assembled in the chapel on Friday evening, the 19, to hear the Recital, given by the music class. Miss Bennett, in charge of affairs, showed that she was mistress of the occasion. A marked feature was the elevated character of the music.

—Miss Amanda Bishop from near Stanford entered C. C. on Monday. She has taught for the past two years near Hale's Well, and her work there is highly complimented. She was a student in Christian College for four years, where her studious habits and lady-like deportment won her many friends. We gladly welcome her back.

—Several visitors were present at the examination in Grecian History. The class composed of Misses Mattie Wyatt, Mary Carpenter, Ada Cunningham, Kate Baughman, Edna Powell, Erma Morse, Victoria Bishop, Lena Edrington and Cloyd Johnston, acquitted themselves in good style. The examination was thorough and exhaustive, and showed that much pains and care had been taken by Mrs. Thomson, and that the pupils were good workers.

—W. W. Blackwell, supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of the world, has issued an order fixing Feb. 19th as the date for the commemoration of the 30th anniversary of the founding of that order. In Mr. Blackwell's circular the following statistics appear, "From a nucleus of five members 30 years ago, we now have nearly 6,000 subordinate lodges with more than 450,000 active and loyal adherents; over 1,200 divisions of the uniform rank, with 50,000 uniform followers and about 1,800 sections of the endowment rank, carrying over $70,000,000 of insurance."

LANCASTER, CARRARD COUNTY.

—Eld. R. Graham Frank has accepted the call to preach twice a month at New Antioch.

—Mr. T. B. Robinson has announced himself as a candidate for the nomination for sheriff; subject to the action of the democracy.

—Mrs. J. C. Frank and children leave this morning for Flemingsburg, their future home. Mr. Ashbrook will go to Lexington Saturday to enter college.

—The Washington correspondent of the Courier Journal stated Saturday that Gov. McCreary had recommended Mr. James I. Hamilton for postmaster at Lancaster. This means that Mr. H. will lick the stamps in the local office. Miss Ella Watson's commission will expire on the 24th of next month. She has made the best postmaster Lancaster has ever had and her management of the office has been entirely satisfactory to all the patrons of the office.

—A sad event that shocked the community was the sudden and unexpected death of Mrs. Ellen Bradley, mother of Col. W. O. Bradley, at his residence at an early hour Sunday morning. Nothing was known of her illness until some one went to her room about 7 o'clock to call her to breakfast, when it was discovered that she was dead. A physician who was summoned expressed the opinion that she had probably died about 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning. It is thought that her death was caused by heart failure.

—She was a daughter of Joseph Totten, one of Garrard's most prominent citizens, and the widow of Hon. Robert M. Bradley, a distinguished member of the bar, who died at this place several years since and was buried at Somerset. Col. Bradley was the only son, while Mrs. Batchelor, Mrs. Newell, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Judge Morrow and Mrs. Mays were their only daughters. Mrs. Bradley was noted for her strong, common sense, sympathetic instincts with suffering humanity and firm and consistent devotion to her children. She was a true friend and a safe counselor, always taking broad and charitable views of any subject brought to her consideration, and with true nobility of character recognizing at all times the merit of whatever she thought commendable in the conduct of others. She was a member of the Christian church and was in the year of her age at the time of her death. Col. Bradley and the family have the deepest sympathies of the community in their great affliction. Funeral services were held at the residence of Col. Bradley at 9:30 Monday morning, conducted by Elder Gowan, after which the remains were taken to Somerset for interment.

—Italy, Sicily, the Behring Sea, the World's Fair, the cholera, yellow fever, breaking of banks, closing of factories, disasters on lake and sea, wrecking of trains, assassination of public officials, hangings and burnings by mobs, the Sherman silver bill, the tariff, the grip, and Corbett and Mitchell altogether make a list of troubles it would be hard for his satanic majesty to duplicate.

REMEMBER.—That the Wisconsin Central has the unqualified endorsement of all, it being the most popular line between Chicago and Milwaukee and St. Paul, Minneapolis and the Northwest it is recognized as the Pullman Line between Chicago and Milwaukee and Ashland, Duluth and Lake Superior points. That the Wisconsin Central touches the most prominent points in Wisconsin, having more business centers than any railway to and from the Northwest. That its dining car service is unsurpassed by any other line, and that its representatives will cheerfully furnish any information that may be desired. For full details regarding Rates, Routes, Folders, Maps etc. address your nearest ticket agent or Jas. C. Pond, Gen. Pass. Agent, Milwaukee, Wis.

There is a good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Davis & Board, of West Monterey, Calumet Co., Pa., says: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker.

Many stubborn and aggravating cases of rheumatism that were believed to be incurable and accepted as life legacies, have yielded to Chamberlain's Pain Balm, much to the surprise and gratification of the sufferers. One application will relieve the pain and suffering and its continued use insures an effectual cure. For sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker.

A Quarter Century Test.
For a quarter of a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been tested and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. A remedy that has stood the test so long and that has given so universal satisfaction is no experiment. Each bottle is positively guaranteed to give relief or the money will be refunded. It is admitted to be the most reliable for Coughs and Colds. Trial bottles free at A. R. Penny's drug store. Large size 50c and $1.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

—Born, to the wife of W. H. Wilkins on the 22nd, a fine 9 lb. boy.

—Miss Bertha Elliott and Miss Jennie Ellis are attending a normal institute at Danville, Indiana.

—Died on Knob Lick Creek on the 20th, Mr. Benjamin Bastain, an aged and respected citizen of that section.

—Married in the clerk's office on the 20th, by Elder J. Q. Montgomery, Mr. Frank Hodge to Miss Lumma Young.

—Judge Wm. M. Myers and Charlie Bowman have returned from Atlanta, Ga., having sold the judge's mules at low rates.

—Special examiner, R. J. Austin was here on the 16th and 19th. County clerk G. A. Prewitt has moved his family to the Rolling Fork for the present and is now boarding at the new hotel.

—Attorney P. M. McRoberts, of Stanford, was visiting his brother, Dr. O. H. McRoberts this week. Since the bad weather set in our town has been crowded with commercial men. The following have registered at Pierce & Coffey's hotel: A. Mathews, R. M. Smith, Mart Anthony, D. S. McAfee, G. M. Grinsley, W. E. Clark, J. F. Woodward, W. L. Munson, W. M. Sandifer, H. Kalm, W. G. Evans, G. T. Dunn, W. H. H. Ritter, S. H. Speyer, F. M. Brinkley and Simpson Little.

—The Corbett and Mitchell fight has been the great absorbing topic here for more than a week. The admirers of each seem to be nearly equally divided. Tender youths as well as the mature have taken sides for their respective favorites. So enthusiastic had two boys become, Ernest and Oscar Wilkinson, that they concluded to have a "set to" before the mail arrived on Friday evening. Ernest represented Corbett, and the more youthful Oscar acted Mitchell. Oscar claimed that he knocked Ernest out in the 5th round, but Ernest claims that it was done by a "foul," Oscar having inserted a finger in his right eye. It was 11 o'clock Friday night after a deputized mail carrier, Mart Cowden, went to Yosemite before the dailies were received by the eager crowd. When the result was made known Corbett men were jubilant, and Mitchell men were crestfallen.

To Whom It May Concern.

McKINNEY, KY., JAN. 29, 1894.

We, the undersigned, do hereby state that the report which is now and has already been circulated over this county that S. M. Owens, candidate for sheriff, brought and treated out at McKinney on one Sunday afternoon last Summer, a keg of beer, is an absolute and malicious falsehood. Mr. Owens was in town on the afternoon referred to and was invited to partake of the beer, but had nothing to do with paying for or taking the beer to McKinney. Some opponent of his takes advantage of same and has stated, or caused the same to be, that Mr. Owens is the man who paid for and treated out the beer. But all may rest assured that such a statement is untrue.

The Grip.

"Out last night,
Lots of fun,
Bed all right,
Half past one;
Nine o'clock,
Feel so sick,
Fetch the doc,
Hurry quick!
Aching bones,
Head'll split,
Horrid groans,
Never quit,
Hardly speak,
Try again,
Feel so weak,
Darting pain,
Spinal cord,
Gives a twitch,
Oh! good Lord,
What a stitch!
Flat in bed,
Gone this trip,
Soon be dead,
Got the grip."

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

—The Senate passed the bill increasing the salaries of appellate judges to $5,000.

—Both Houses have passed the bill to prohibit the sale of obscene literature and pictures.

—The Senate passed the anti-pool selling bill, restricting the selling of pools to race tracks and prohibiting it at other places.

—The House passed the bill requiring banks to keep on hand 15 per cent of the total deposits and in cities of 50,000 25 per cent.

—The Senate passed the bill to prevent public carriers from violating local option laws by delivering jugs and packages of liquor.

—Senator Weissinger's bill to provide that married woman may mortgage separate estates for the benefit of their husbands passed the Senate.

—The House passed a bill requiring ticket offices to be open 30 minutes before the arrival of a train; that notices be posted when a train is 30 minutes behind; that waiting rooms shall be kept comfortably warm and that delays and departure of trains shall be announced in the coaches.

—Mr. Tyler's bill, which makes seduction a felony, and punishes it by imprisonment of not less than six months in the penitentiary, has a proviso that the punishment shall not be inflicted if the seducer shall marry the victim. Should a woman seduce a man she will be subject to the same penalty.

—A sub-committee has investigated all the propositions in the three bills before the Legislature concerning the proposed appropriation for new capitol buildings with the view to harmonize them and it has formulated one that embodies some of the essential features of all, but is original in many other particulars. It proposes an appropriation of $1,000,000,000 to be paid in ten annual installments. $100,000 is to be expended the first year; $200,000 a year for the four succeeding years and $100,000 the last year. Among the commissioners named are Hon. R. P. Jacobs, of Danville.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Our people took advantage of this cold spell to fill their ice-houses. It has turned much warmer but the snow has not gone.

—Mrs. Emma Farris has been quite sick but is up again. Miss Allie Hardin has been sick ever since her return from Danville several weeks ago. Miss Grace Tudor is out again after an attack of mumps. Miss Annie Bronaugh is still suffering from the same disease and Harry Magee and little Hazel Slaughter are its latest victims.

—When Scott Anderson, the treasurer of the C. O. Library Association, was called upon to tell how much money was in his possession belonging to the Association, his account book showed that all but $7.95 had been used to defray expenses. It was then decided upon that this amount be expended in a supper for those who worked so hard to make it, as there was too little left to donate to the churches, or buy books. The Association met Friday night in the college chapel and enjoyed the fruits, candies and nuts. After the repast toasts were responded to by all present, games were played and each felt better for being present.

HUSTONVILLE.

—The Christian Aid Society is being well attended.

—Miss May Arnold, of Missouri, is visiting relatives here.

—State Evangelist Elliott preached at Christian church Sunday.

—Miss Fannie Harper has returned home after a pleasant visit in Bradfordsville.

—Some of our citizens took advantage of the cold snap and filled their ice-houses.

—J. P. Harper and Willis Shreaves have returned home from the South. J. Bradford Jennings and Mort Rothwell, of Lancaster, were here Sunday. Miss Sallie Cook is visiting friends in Lexington. Tucker Bros. will take possession of John Riffe's store soon. Miss Jessie Cook will leave Wednesday for a short stay in Nashville.

Children, who are puny, weak, or scrofulous, ought to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That builds up both their flesh and their strength. For this, and for purifying the blood, there's nothing in all medicine that can equal the "Discovery."

In recovering from the "Grippe" or in convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or other wasting diseases, it speedily and surely invigorates and builds up the whole system. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, rouses every organ into natural action, and brings back health and strength.

For all diseases caused by a torpid liver or impure blood, Dyspepsia, Bilelessness, Scrofulous, Skin, and Scalp Diseases—even Consumption (or Lung-scorfula) in its earlier stages—the "Discovery" is the only guaranteed remedy. If it doesn't benefit or cure in every case, you have your money back.

—Mrs. Eugene Price, said to be 103 years old, is dead at Barbourville.

W. H. WEAREN & CO.

ANOTHER bungling execution, this time at Chicago, will cause the tender hearted sentimentalists to raise another howl against capital punishment in general and by hanging in particular. Geo. Painter, a fine looking man of 200 pounds, after a speech, in which he said that if he killed Alice Martin, with whom he lived, "the woman I loved, I pray this minute, my last minute on earth, that the Eternal God will take me and put me in eternal hell; that He will keep me in this eternally," was executed Friday, after a horrible scene at the gallows. The rope snapped and the body fell eight feet to the stone pavement below, the head striking it with tremendous force. A cry of horror went up from the spectators and the executioners seemed dazed and awe stricken. As soon as they recovered their wits, Painter was again strung up more dead than alive, and this time the law was satisfied. There is absolutely no excuse for such scenes. Sheriffs are not always the smartest men in their bailiwicks, but they ought to have sense enough to get ropes large enough and strong enough to resist any strain that may be put upon them.

MANY republicans, either through ignorance or innate meanness, are trying to disparage the ability of democrats to run the government, by charging that the proposed bond issue is to meet deficits created by them in less than a year of control. Neither the treasury nor the country has felt the effect of any act of the democratic party so far, except the relief given by the repeal of the Sherman law. The extravagance of the 51st Congress, better known as the Billion Dollar Congress, when Reed and his minions were in the saddle, is responsible for all our financial troubles, which were averted for awhile by Secretary Foster's borrowings from New York banks. The cause of the present deficiency, making the issue of $50,000,000 in bonds necessary existed before even the election of a democratic president and congress. It is now established to the satisfaction of the most obtuse partizan by the fact that the plates that will be used for the new bonds were prepared under the direction of Secretary Foster, who contemplated issuing bonds just before the end of Mr. Harrison's administration.

LAWYERS disagree as often as doctors, and judges proceeding from the same standpoint and with the same lights before them, frequently render decisions diametrically opposite. A case in point has just occurred. Circuit Judge Helm, of the Newport circuit, decided Friday that all banks which had complied with the old Hewitt law have a contract with the State and are exempt from local taxes. Saturday the no less distinguished jurist, Judge Cantrill, of the Frankfort circuit, rendered a decision in which he took exactly the opposite grounds. The Court of Appeals will now say which of these great legal lights is entitled to honor.

THE woods are getting full of gubernatorial candidates. Hon. John D. Carroll, chairman of the State central committee, is in the hands of his friends; Cash Clay, Jr., is putting in some good looks for himself while the sun shines; Gen. P. Watt Hardin, who held Gov. Brown such a hostile before, is eager for the fray again, while numerous and sundry short horses are bobbing up all over the State. They do say that Lt. Gov. M. C. Alford has designs also on the higher office, but if Mitch will take the advice of a friend he will tarry at Jericho till his beard be grown.

THE mountain counties have been kicking like unto a jackass ever since the pauper idiot law was passed requiring the counties to pay a part of the cost of maintaining those unfortunates. It is a good law as it checked in some degree the promiscuous granting of such claims, but the Senate has harkened to the mountain moan and passed a bill to reinstate the old one, which required the whole of the $75 to be paid out of the State treasury.

HENRY GEORGE's taxation theories has at last found a congressional adherent in the person of Representative Maguire, of California, who has introduced a bill proposing a district tax on land, by which $62,500,000 of revenue is to be raised. The Californian should be shunned. Prendergast was a disciple of Henry George and Maguire may develop a like murderous tendency.

OUR heartfelt sympathy is tendered Col. W. O. Bradley in the loss of his beloved mother. No matter how old a man gets such a loss is always poignant, if he is the right kind of a man, and Col. Bradley's treatment of his mother shows that he never forgot her tender care or ceased to pay her the homage due the truest and most unselfish friend he can ever have.

At 2:30 Saturday afternoon, Mrs. M. H. DeYoung, wife of the manager, pressed the button and electricity did the rest. The ponderous machinery of California's Mid-winter International Exposition sprang into life and the great exhibition, which has cost $4,500,000 and is second in extent to that of Paris and Chicago, was open. It was a gala day in San Francisco, everybody observing it as a holiday. A dispatch says the weather was perfect. Not a cloud was in the blue sky, and the sun's warm rays streamed down, making the air as balmy as a day in June. It was no January thaw, but common, ordinary winter weather, such as California is accustomed to. Overcoats were a burden and wraps of all kinds were left at home. To the thousands of Eastern visitors the weather was the choicest exhibit at the Fair and not even the great Columbian Exposition could, in their eyes, show anything to compare with that wonderful winter's day. The exposition and the consequent low railroad rates will draw many people to the far famed golden coast.

HON. JOEL BAKER is a reformer from away back. He wants to pass a law requiring that telegraph operators shall sleep eight hours in 24 and fine the companies which would keep them from it from $500 to $1,000 for each offense. The great reformer also desires to prohibit steamboats from unloading on Sundays, and before he gets through will doubtless champion a bill to make every man take a bath once a year, whether he needs it or not. We can not recall what county is responsible for Mr. Joel Baker, but it is easy enough to recall that they made a mistake in sending him to the Legislature. Nothing less than a seat in one or the other Houses of Congress is up to his full measure.

AFTER an acrimonious debate a caucus of the democratic members of the House ordered by a vote of 89 to 71 that the objectionable income tax, with the internal revenue schedule, shall go as an amendment to the tariff bill. This is unfortunate, since it lessens the chances of the passage of the bill and a reform in tariff robbery. The New York members, headed by Bourke Cochran, will fight the amendment and filibuster to defeat it.

THE indications are that the compulsory educational bill will be snowed under as it should be. When it came up Friday it was smothered with such a torrent of amendments that its author was glad enough to get it recommitted to the committee. It is a pity to waste the precious time of a 60-day session on such a wild and visionary scheme.

This paper was in error when it said that George W. Childs, the great Philadelphia editor, was dead. He was still alive at last accounts, but as five doctors were attending him, it was natural to suppose that the end was very near. No man, however strong his constitution may be, can stand five doctors song.

Gov. McCREARY made a great speech the other night in favor of the Wilson bill. The republican members tried to rattle him with frequent interrogatories, but he was always ready with an answer and his remarks were so well received that he was given unanimous consent to finish, after his allotted time expired.

A wow and a wampus is being kicked up by certain mock-modest individuals over the alleged indecorous character of the World's Fair medal. The height of its offending seems to be that the man on it hasn't got his "pants" on and is not in proper shape to appear in polite society.

It may not be a matter of much importance now, since she seems to be inextricably in the consumme, but we will say to a "Constant Reader" that ex-Queen Lilioukalani's name is pronounced Lee-lee-woh-ah-lah-nee.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer is now demanding the recall of Minister Willis, but its noise is not likely to have any more effect on the administration than any other republican sheet.

A LEGISLATOR wants to raise the age of consent in females to 21 years. Now let some wild-eyed statesman move to amend by taking away the right to consent at all.

NEWSY NOTES.

—Many persons living in tents on the Cherokee strip were frozen to death last week.

—The Four Seasons Hotel at Harrogate will open again Feb. 1 with Henry Clair as manager.

—John Wilson, of Brazil, Ind., committed suicide by sticking his head in a wash tub and holding it there.

—Miss Edna Magley, of Indianapolis, was caught on the street near her home and robbed of her beautiful suit of hair.

—Fayette has 66 candidates for county offices, notwithstanding it takes $75 to get a name on the primary election ballots.

—The new pension bill appropriates $151,581,570, or about $15,000,000 less than the appropriation for the current fiscal year.

—They do say that in a "revival" at Princeton College 165 football players have been converted. It is hoped that their conversion means their withdrawal from the brutal business, misnamed sport.

—Cholera is spreading rapidly again on the Russian frontier.

—Pierre Jules Cavalier, the great French sculptor, died at Paris.

—The miners in the Mansfield coal region are on a tear again and State troops are likely to be called out.

—The debate on the Wilson bill has been extended to the 1st. A vote was to have been taken yesterday.

—The young Khedive of Egypt makes too much trouble. He seems to be a harem-scare-em sort of a fellow.

—The Empire State express ran from Albany to New York the other day 148 miles in 151 minutes, beating all previous records.

—Police Judge Jones and Marshal Bowman were each held in $2,000 bail for the killing of Wm. Reeder at Barbourville.

—Nine persons composing a pleasure party from Holland, Mich., were drowned in the Mississippi near New Orleans by the capsizing of a schooner.

—The Enquirer says that Mitchell took four big drinks of whisky before he entered the ring with Corbett. This it says he did to get up his courage.

—Corbett and Peter Jackson will fight in June. The backers of the Afro-American made the second deposit of $1,000 last night to bind the agreement.

—Sullivan now says that he is undecided in regard to challenging Corbett, adding that his theatrical engagement will keep him busy until the end of the year.

—An attempt to enforce the dispensary law led to a riot at Charleston, S. C., in which 500 men attempted to catch two spies for the purpose of lynching them.

—The Atlanta Constitution says that Georgia demands the free coinage of silver, a revenue tariff, the repeal of the State bank tax, an income tax and no bonds.

—Scott Sausby, of Harrison county, had his son to glance while cutting wood. His little son standing near by caught the lick, nearly cutting off both of his legs.

—A real estate man named Akeridge, of Atlanta, Ga., has been found guilty of arson and as the penalty in the State is death for that crime, Mr. Akeridge will likely swing.

—During the civil war the Union blockading fleet captured or destroyed 735 schooners, 155 sloops, 252 steamers and 170 other vessels that were attempting to run the blockade.

—Two Mississippi life convicts killed two other life convicts and have been sentenced to death. In this way the State gets rid of four life-timers, as good way as any to dispose of them.

—The intense cold weather in West Tennessee has destroyed the early vegetable and fruit crops. In Mississippi the strawberries were in bloom, and it is feared the crop will be a total loss.

—The corner-stone of the main building of the new Tulane University, at New Orleans, probably the best endowed college in the South, was laid with impressive ceremonies Saturday afternoon.

—Mercer county has a curiosity in the person of Miss Nora Nave. She is a beautiful young lady of 22 summers, and in form perfectly symmetrical. She is only three feet 10 inches high, and weighs 56 pounds.

—The county commissions of Boone refused to allow the Courier-Journal Company's claim for $23.50 for a jury drum, because it was not worth more than $5, and that amount was allowed in payment for the same.

—Louis Gerson, a wealthy stock dealer of McKeesport, Pa., was found dead in his berth in a Pullman when the car arrived at Pittsburgh. His death is a mystery and detectives have been employed to hunt the cause.

—Judge Pattison, of the Lebanon Circuit, decides in the case of a saloon keeper indicted for furnishing a minor liquor, that he should go acquit, if as in that case, the man who bought the drinks poured out the one for the minor.

—W. M. Smith, of Mayfield, has taken charge of the office of district attorney for Kentucky and it is said has appointed Arthur Wallace, of Louisville, to be his assistant. J. Mort Rothwell, of Garrard, was a well endorsed applicant for the position.

—Miss Constance Fenimore Woolson, the novelist, who wrote "Anne," "For the Major," "East Angels" and "Castle Nowhere," died at Venice, aged 45, from the effects of jumping from a window with suicidal intent. She was crazed with the grip.

—Damage by fire to the extent of $520,000 was done at Bath, Me. The water-works system had been rendered almost useless during the night by a break in the main line. Many blocks were destroyed in the business center before water could be thrown from the Kennebec river.

—A woman calling herself Mrs. Kitty Parnell, and claiming to be the widow of the dead Irish leader, has been victimizing confiding people in Kansas. She is described as being gentle as a kitten in getting into the good graces of the susceptible, and as sly as a cat in escaping the clutches of the law.

—Joseph C. Sibley, democratic representative of the 26th Pennsylvania district in Congress, has resigned. In a recent speech opposing the Wilson Tariff Bill he said if he thought he was not acting according to the wishes of his constituents he would resign. Apparently he has heard from his constituents.

—At Bethel, Ala., May Smith, aged 7, while playing on a shed roof, fell off into a pot of boiling hot soap and was cooked to death.

—Money is already being placed in the hands of the stakeholders of the Corbett-Jackson fight, which is said will occur in June.

—Judge Coffee, at San Francisco, made an order allowing Mrs. Jane L. Stanford a monthly allowance of $10,000 pending the settlement of the Leland Stanford estate.

—J. T. Rigby, an express messenger on the Louisville Southern, is in jail at Lexington for stealing $2,000 from the company. He was arrested in Gertie Graves' house of ill fame.

—A company has been organized to build a road, 40 miles in length, from Washington, D. C., to Chesapeake Beach, a new pleasure resort, where an immense hotel is to be built at once.

—An exchange remarks that: "Man proposes and God disposes" goes the old saying, but an old maid the other day said that man is very slow in carrying out his part of the programme.

—The great railroad exhibit of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad which attracted so much attention at the World's Fair has been presented to the city of Chicago for the Columbus Museum.

—The Enquirer suggests that as the cause of religion has run against so many snags in the Columbus penitentiary that perhaps it might be a good experiment to select a chaplain from among the convicts.

—Some fellow is sending out a lot of manufactured news from Barbourville. A late dispatch says that secret service officers had a terrific encounter with counterfeiters at Whitesburg, Letcher county, Ky., late Saturday evening in which two were killed outright and others mortally wounded.

—A fond parent advertises for a lost boy in a Nicholasville paper, but as this is the way he describes him we suspect he will not give much of a reward: "He has a long head, a long face, big nose, thick lips, spare made, raw-boned, dark brown hair, nine years old and large for his age."

THOSE having claims against the county, allowed at the last October term can get their money by calling on county clerk George B. Cooper and getting an order for it, which Treasurer W. M. Bright at the Farmers Bank and Trust Co's office will pay.

STANFORD is to have another furniture store. Mr. W. W. Withers will soon open up a first class stock in one of the rooms opposite the Coffey House. The new merchant is a worthy and capable young man and will no doubt make a success of the business.

GROWING POORER.—County clerk G. B. Cooper tells us that the taxable property in this county for the last assessment amounts to $4,749,109; or $472,380 less than last the assessment preceding it. Hard times, and the decrease in stock of various kinds, is thought to be the cause of the falling off.

PETITIONS are being circulated, which are being liberally signed, asking the county judge for the privilege of voting on the liquor question in the Hustonville precinct, on the 24th and in the Stanford precinct on the 26th of March. A much greater number of signers have been procured in the Hustonville precinct than are required and a sufficient number here.

If the statement of a colored man whose name appears on the petition for a prohibition election is true, the pros. are resorting to doubtful means to secure the requisite number. He says a preacher came to him and asked if he did not want to vote for better times. Of course he did and was told to sign his name to the paper. He couldn't write but permitted the preacher to put his name down and didn't know till he was told that he had signed a paper to help shut off his favorite beverage.

PINKVILLE was in the midst of a boom when the census was taken and she is now rated in the 4th class when really she should be in the 6th, as she has now not more than 1,000 inhabitants. In order to meet the heavy expense of a 4th class city, the council has to resort to all manners of ways to raise revenue. The latest move is to tax every kind of business, trade and profession, from $5 to $25. Lawyers have to pay $10, doctors $5, printers $10; undertakers and hotels $25 each and so on. The Messenger is kicking like a mule over the innovation and says the order cannot be enforced.

A WAGON FACTORY.—Messrs. E. G. Teneych and A. J. Wilcox, of Syracuse, New York, each of them stockholders in the Stanford Water, Light and Ice Co. were here this week looking up a location for a wagon factory. They expressed themselves as being very much pleased with Stanford and her many advantages of location and improvements and would bear them in mind in their final decision on a location. In a conversation with them they stated that the plant they proposed putting up would cost at least $10,000 and that it would give employment to at least 40 or 50 men.

WHILE the examining trial of Bill Newcomb for shooting his sister-in-law was in progress at Mt. Vernon, Mat Burke, the wounded woman's husband, opened fire on the prisoner. There was a wild stampede among the spectators. Officers soon disarmed Burke, and found that Newcomb had sustained no damage from the flying balls more than a few holes through his clothing. The shooter was placed in charge of an officer, and later gave bond. At the conclusion of Newcomb's trial, as he was being taken back to jail, he espied Burke and making a grab for him and dealt him a flat blow on the neck, which put him to sleep for half an hour. Newcomb was held to the grand jury in the case for shooting his woman.

OFF.—Mr. O. P. Huffman, has dropped out of the jailer's race after making a manly fight in which he found out he could not win.

THERE was no lecture last night. Rev. W. E. Ellis received a dispatch yesterday saying that Dr. Hedley was sick and could not come, but would likely be able to be here on the 9th prox.

ICE formed here two or more inches thick, but none was gathered. The ice company makes it so cheap and so much better than the natural article that it is not worth while to put it up here.

THE McKinney correspondent of the Enquirer is a bigger liar than Joe Mulhatten ever dared to be. Some of his stories are exceedingly fishy and like Tobe Grider's show, of which it was said that it was so d—n poor, it was really good.

NEXT Friday will be Candlemas and ground hog day. The Encyclopedia Britannica is authority for the statement and that ought to settle it. The little varmint is sure to see his shadow this time and go back for a six months siege of winter.

If our subscribers want any periodical or daily we can get it for them and save them from 25c to $1.50, besides the annoyance of sending the money away. Cash must always accompany the order, however, as publishers in the cities are not as foolish as their country cousins, and do not credit for subscriptions.

TO THE PEN.—Sheriff J. C. Colson, of Bell, and two deputies took six prisoners to Frankfort Sunday and they were as tough looking a set as one could well imagine. They were all convicted at the recent term of court and are Berry Saylor, two years for manslaughter; Joseph Henderson, house-breaking, two years; Frank Wilson, house-breaking, five years; John Myracle, hog-stealing, one year; Ralph Marshall and Charlie Farro, three and one years respectively for house-breaking.

THE Harrodsburg Electric Light and Power Company, has decided to sell its plant. The Democrat says it has been running 4 years without being able to declare a dividend and it is going to give some other men a chance to try their hands. It gets from $1,500 to $2,100 a year for lighting the streets with incandescents, there being no arcs in town. The company here has given the town the benefit of a number of arcs and many incandescents and only gets $1,100 a year. Its manager says however, that without the water and ice plant, which is run in connection, the electric plant would not pay.

HIT 'EM RIGHT.—Elder W. E. Ellis preached Sunday morning on people of the present day being possessed of devils, as in old scriptural times. He cited a number of instances to prove his point, among them, the old brothers, who sat up in church with tobacco in their mouths, expectorating right and left to create a disagreeable smell and spoil the skirts of the sisters. Several of the old fellows squirmed in their seats, but they must admit they are either somewhat of a devil themselves, or possessed with one. Nothing is more disgusting than a filthy tobacco user who cares neither for himself or those he annoys.

THE Pineville Messenger says that Bob Marler appears to be resigned to his fate and has professed religion and thoroughly believes that his soul will be saved. He is glad to talk with ministers and others about his soul's salvation and is evidently honest in his conversion. The measure for the suit he is to be executed in has been taken and is to cost $25. He was very particular in stating that he desired a stylish suit of solid black cloth with a three button cutaway coat. The State allows $15 for a suit for a man to be executed and Sheriff Colson has generously agreed to pay the balance. The execution will occur a week from next Friday and an INTERIOR JOURNAL man will be there to see it.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Seven divorces have been granted at the present term of the Whitley Circuit court.

—Alexander Pence, a grass widower of 70, and Miss Emily Casey, just 15, both of Ford, were united in marriage at Richmond.

—A New York wife was granted a divorce because her husband threw the baby at her when she hit him with the coal bucket for spitting on the stove.

—In Pennsylvania a henpecked husband was relieved from the yoke of matrimony because "the defendant struck the plaintiff a violent blow with her bustle."

—A Minnesota woman was divorced because her husband would not trim his toenails, which he drove into her in his sleep "causing her great bodily pain and anguish of mind."

—Last week, Mr. and Mrs. Marimon, of this city, gave a dinner to their children and grand children in celebration of the 67th anniversary of their marriage. This venerable old man is 90 and his good wife 85 years of age.—Harrodsburg Sayings.

—In her speech before the Pilgrim Mothers Rev. Anna Shaw said: "I never use the word obey in the marriage ceremony. I wouldn't marry a woman that was such a fool as to promise to obey a man in everything and mean it. I wouldn't marry a woman that was such a liar as to promise to obey and not mean it."

—Mr. J. R. Williams, the handsome and popular junior editor of the Midway Clipper, has taken to himself a wife. He slipped "unbeknownst" to his friends with pretty Miss Ora Letton, of Paris, and they were married in Louisville on the 25th. May their lives be of such increasing happiness, that seeing which the wicked partner, Dick Godson, will be forced to follow Joe's example and try to make his likewise.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—Judge W. R. Carson received a telegram yesterday from his brother-in-law, Mr. J. R. Dodds, of Danville, stating that his little daughter, Pauline, had just died of diphtheria. She was buried yesterday afternoon at Danville.

—Capt. G. E. Murphy who ran on the L. & N., with headquarters at Rowland, for five years, died Saturday at Lexington of nervous paralysis, from which he had suffered tortures for a number of months. He had tried eminent physicians in both Louisville and Lexington, but his case was a puzzle to them and they could give him no permanent relief. He grew downcast and for a while his reason was dethroned to such an extent that it was necessary to place him in the asylum. His confinement was only for a few weeks, however, when he was taken home, and where he afterwards died. Capt. Murphy was an unusually clever man, and made many friends on the road and elsewhere, who will learn with much regret his untimely death. Several years ago he was married to Miss Lizzie Hutchison, of Rowland, and she and two little boys, one 14 months and the other three and a half years old are left to suffer the loss of a loving husband and father. The remains were brought here Sunday, and after funeral services at the Methodist church by Rev. W. E. Arnold, they were laid to rest in the Buffalo cemetery in the presence of a large concourse of friends. Deceased held $3,000 insurance in the Order of Railway Conductors.

NOT A CANDIDATE.—The report that I am a candidate for county clerk having gained some circulation without such an intention on my part, I ask you to say through the INTERIOR JOURNAL that I am not a candidate and do not expect to be. I shall not participate in the primary election, but withhold my privilege to vote untrammelled at the final election. L. M. Lasley.

A LOOK JUST AHEAD.

OLIVE HARPER ALREADY DISCUSSES NEXT SEASON'S FABRICS.

The Two Ideas That Possess the Feminine Mind—New Summer Goods—Exceptionally Handsome Ball Gowns—The Latest Novelties For Walking Gowns.

[Special Correspondence.]

New York, Jan. 3.—Just now two ideas possess the feminine mind, and they are ball dresses and the new wash fabrics for next summer. I suppose men would wonder why in the very coldest time of the year women would or could care to contemplate those diaphanous fabrics, but "women are run critters" anyhow, and, besides, what is better calculated to make them feel duly humble and miserable than to have a dress-maker in the house and have to keep her, or at least to be at her beck and call during those 40 days? Thin, washable dresses are always made at home. Any dress-maker of standing would feel insulted through and through if asked to make up such cheap fabrics, and for that or some other unwritten reason and law all these pretty frocks are made at home.

Pretty indeed the new summer goods are. The daintiest of them are the lawns, with small all over patterns, mostly of some flower made familiar by old associations. The grounds of these lawns are white or some exceedingly delicate tint besprinkled with violets, arbutus, forget-me-nots, cowslips and minute periwinkles and tiny rosebuds. Nothing could exceed these in delicacy, and they have such a fresh, crisp look that it is a delight to see and feel them. There are several new ideas in organdies, such as bars, stripes or crossed bars of silky finish, and between these are the loveliest flowers imaginable. There are new seersuckers, striped in very artistic shadings and considerably firmer than they have been before, so that some of them are as stiff as bedtickings.

There are several weaves of cotton crepon, in very pleasing colors, and no end of swiss muslins dotted with white or colored figures. The swiss muslins are always stiff and have the faculty of holding starch well as long as they last. There are several new English zephyr gingham with satin stripes, and the coloring is very refined and delicate. There is a line of new linen lawns from Fayal. They are too expensive for every one, but how very dainty and pretty they are one cannot judge without comparing others with them. There is much of the beautiful Mexican drawn lace work seen on fine linen lawns above the hem, sometimes three and four rows in graduated widths. There are cotton chevrons, but I fear they will "run" in the laundry. The dotted swiss lawns have stripes in some instances of lines of thread a trifle coarser than the fabric in light colors, looking like ribbon sewed along. Speaking of ribbon reminds me that ribbon in large quantities will be required as trimming for these light summer dresses, and the light laces will find useful places upon the waists and sleeves and as ruffles and flounces.

The ball gowns are exceptionally handsome and consist of two distinct classes—the thin and filmy dress for the young girl and the rich and resplendent one for the matron. At a recent grand function two gowns were worn that were worth special notice. One was of pearl gray satin duchess "as stiff as a board." This was brocaded with great sprays of wild purple asters and stems. It was cut princess, with the back breadths laid in extra deep plaits, and owing to the richness of the material there was no foot trimming. The neck was cut half low and had a bertha of point lace reaching all around in the back, but falling to jabot points in front nearly to the knees, where it ended under windmill bows and flats of violet ribbon.

The other dress was of sky blue peau de soie, open down the front over a draping of white lace and edged with narrow black lace. All around the bottom were set blue bows, and the corsage and sleeves were elaborately draped with lace.

I have just room to mention two handsome walking gowns for early spring—one of blue serge over red velvet and trimmed with the red, and a biscuit cloth with zigzag ruffles of corded brown silk and waist trimming of the same—both elegant and tasteful.

THAT SMILE.

Sam Houston Says It Is the Only Thing That Saved Him.

A good story was told in one of the committee rooms at the capitol the other day touching the senatorial career in Washington of the Hon. Sam Houston of Texas. It was some time in the forties, not long after Houston had come to the senate. The great Texan was attended by a faithful black from Virginia bearing the distinguished name of Richard Henry Lee. Richard proved himself a good body servant in all things save one. He attended faithfully on every want of his eccentric master, who was keeping bachelor's quarters, but no argument was sufficiently persuasive to induce Richard Henry Lee to keep the rooms in order.

A general air of slothful neglect marked the surroundings of their domestic establishment, and time and again Houston threatened to have Richard flayed and his black hide hung over the back yard fence as a frightful example to all evil-doers. Things ran on in this way until one day Houston returned to his rooms from the senate and found the condition of affairs at home so bad that he determined then and there to teach his flunky a good lesson. He deliberately locked the door, and without saying a word crossed over to a table where he kept his pistol case, removed two pistols, loaded them, handed one to Richard and took the other himself.

"Now, Richard Henry Lee," he began in a low voice that foreboded ill, "you stand in that corner while I take my position in this, opposite you, face to face, man to man, pistols in hand. You have betrayed my confidence and trampled upon my feelings until patience has ceased to be a virtue. I have reasoned and pleaded with you to maintain my rooms in that state of cleanliness to which, as a free born Texan, I am accustomed, and you have basely ignored my wishes in the premises, and have gone on in your slothful, shiftless ways without regard either to my feelings or my comfort. Now, you infernal scamp, I have made up my mind to kill you. I could do so without giving you a show for your life, but absolute fairness shall distinguish the method of your taking off. Get into your place, and when I drop this red bandanna handkerchief, shoot! If you kill me, so be it. I forgive you now. If I kill you, it won't make any difference anyhow. You are good for nothing, and your removal will be a blessing to society. Remember, however, that no man ever faced me with a pistol in his hand and lived to tell it."

With ashen face Richard Henry, who, despite his negligence, loved his master most devotedly, took his stand in the corner assigned him and mechanically followed Houston's motions. The Texan took a handkerchief out of his pocket, which he held aloft as a signal, and then raised his pistol with the other hand to a level with his lackey's head.

As he did so an involuntary smile flitted across his face, and instantly Richard dropped his pistol, while his face spread out into a huge smile.

"I say, Mars Sam," he shouted in a transport of rejoicing, "I thought you yally meant it, but yo' just pokin' fun at me. Goramity," he added, with a sigh of relief, "it makes me shiver to think how near yo' was to death! Dat smile was all dat saved yo' life."

Houston told the story as a good joke on himself, assuring his hearers that he was positive Richard would have killed him if he had carried the joke a hair-breadth further.—Washington Post.

Fatal.
A story is told of two Irishmen who were caught asleep one night in the loft of a burning building. One of them hastily drew on his trousers and jumped from the window. In his fright and hurry he had unconsciously pulled on the garment wrong side foremost, with an effect which, when he recovered his equilibrium after the jump, excited his profound consternation.

"Pat, Pat" called out his companion, still in the loft, "air ye kilt intirely?"
"No, Moike," replied Pat in hopeless tones. "It's not kilt Oi am, me b'ye, but I fear me Oi'm fatally twisited."—Argonaut.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

OF STANFORD, KY.

Capital Stock.....$200,000

Surplus.....21,300

Attention of the public is invited to the fact that this is the only National Bank in Stanford Under the provisions of the National Bank Act depositors are secured not only by the capital stock, but by the stockholders' liability for an amount equal to the stock, so that depositors of this institution are secured by a fund of $400,000. Five sworn statements of the condition of the bank are made each year to the United States Government and its assets are examined at stated times by government agents, thus securing additional and perfect safety to depositors.

This institution, originally established as the Deposit Bank of Stanford in 1858, then re-organized as the National Bank of Stanford in 1865 and again re-organized as the First National Bank of Stanford in 1882, has had practically an uninterrupted existence of 35 years. It is better supplied now with facilities for transacting business promptly and liberally than ever before in its long and honorable career. Accounts of corporations, fiduciaries, firms and individuals respectfully solicited.

The Directory of this Bank is composed of
